The Criminal Law Division can prosecute cases of local police misconduct only when referred by district attorneys. Allegations of police misconduct generally should be made to the following:

- The local police department's internal affairs unit, or a department supervisor;
- The county District Attorney, if the local police department has been unresponsive; and
- If local authorities have been unresponsive, complaints of unlawful policing may be made to the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) – the FBI, U.S. Attorney's Office \(Eastern District of PA; Middle District of PA; Western District of PA\), or Civil Rights Division, Criminal Section and Special Litigation Section.

Complaint Summary

they have been using advanced technology to telepathically torture me for 2 years. starting from May 2022 and is ongoing. the technology comes from National Resources, the domestic CIA division. I've been able to ascertain 6 of their names, Marc Powell Chris Kolcharno Jason Brian Jeff and detective Jordan. besides telepathic torture and mind control they have also used directed energy weapons against me. i wound up on their radar from a confidential informant lying to them, making a fake controlled buy against me. but I'm an innocent victim with no criminal or arrest history. I'm 40 years old and have never even been on probation.
